

Special Educational Needs and Disability Policy

1. Introduction

The King's School Worcester Foundation comprises three schools: The King's School Worcester, King's St Albans and King's Hawford. Each is referred to collectively and individually as "the School" and is committed to the equal treatment of all pupils including those with special educational needs (SEN) and disabilities. This policy works towards eliminating disadvantages for pupils with SEN and disabilities by:

- using best endeavours to ensure that all pupils (including those with medical conditions) get the support needed in order to access the School's educational provision
- not treating disabled pupils less favourably than their peers
- making reasonable adjustments so that disabled pupils are not put at a substantial disadvantage in matters of admission and education
- ensuring that pupils with SEN and disabilities engage as fully as practicable in the activities of school alongside pupils who do not have SEN and disabilities
- ensuring parents/guardians are informed when special educational provision is made for their child and are kept up to date as to their child's progress and development.

In drawing up this policy, the School has had regard to the following guidance and advice (in so far as they apply to the School):

- Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice: 0 to 25 years (January 2015)
- Equality Act 2010
- Children and Families Act 2014
- EHRC guidance 'Reasonable adjustments for disabled pupils'
- Statutory framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage (September 2021).

This policy should be read in conjunction with the School's Admissions Policy, Equal Opportunities Policy, Accessibility Plan, Behaviour Management Policy and the latest version of KCSIE.

2. Definition of special educational needs

A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them. In accordance with the Children and Families Act 2014, a child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if they:

- have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children their age
- have a disability which either prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or early years providers
- are under five years old and would be likely to have such difficulties if special educational provision were not made for them.

The expression 'learning difficulty' covers a wide variety of conditions and may include those known as an autistic spectrum condition, dyslexia, dyspraxia, attention deficit (hyperactivity) disorder, semantic processing difficulty and learning problems which result from social, emotional or mental health difficulties. The expression may also include those who have problems with their eyesight or hearing.

Children will not be regarded as having a learning difficulty solely because the language or form of language of their home is different from the language in which they will be taught. The School's support for those children whose first language is not English is set out in the School's EAL Policy.

3. Definition of disability

A child or young person is disabled if they have a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities (as defined by the Equality Act 2010). Long term means that the impairment will have lasted or be likely to last for 12 months or more.

Not all pupils who have SEN are disabled and not all disabled pupils have SEN but understandably, there is overlap.

4. Governor and staff responsibilities

The governing body is responsible for determining school policy and provision for pupils with SEN and disabilities.

The Head is responsible for overseeing all aspects of the School's SEN provision and keeping the governing body fully informed of the implementation of the School's policy in practice.

The Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCO) and Head of Learning Skills at The King's School Worcester is Isobel Carron.

The SENCO at King's St Albans is Bryony Cartwright.

The SENCO at King's Hawford is Vicki English.

Their responsibilities include:

- determining the strategic development of the SEN and disability policy and provision in the School, together with the Head and governing body
- having overall day-to-day responsibility for the operation of the SEN and disability policy
- coordinating specific provision for children with SEN and disabilities, including those who have EHC plans
- ensuring all staff understand their responsibilities to children with SEN and the School's approach to identifying and meeting SEN
- ensuring that teachers are given any necessary information relating to a child's learning support needs and/or disabilities (if known) so that teaching practices are appropriate
- ensuring parental insights are considered by the School to support their child's SEN and disability

- liaising with the medical centre, pastoral teams, external professionals and agencies, as appropriate
- ensuring that the School keeps records of all pupils with SEN up to date.

The School's Learning Support Departments are made up as follows:

The King's School

Isobel Carron, Head of Learning Skills and SENCO – Specialist teacher and Assessor (Full-time)

Joanna Lucas – Specialist teacher and Assessor (Part-time)

Oliver Shone – Specialist teacher (Full-time)

Debra Clarke – Specialist Maths teacher (Part-time)

Emma Bennett – Learning Skills Administrator (Part-time)

King's St. Alban's

Bryony Cartwright, SENCO (Part-time)

King's Hawford

Vicki English, SENCO (Full-time)

Sarah Palmer, Learning Support Teaching Assistant (Part-time)

All teachers are responsible for helping to meet a pupil's needs (irrespective of any specialist qualifications or expertise). All staff are expected to understand this policy so that the School can identify, assess and make provision to meet those needs.

5. Identifying and supporting pupils with SEN and disabilities

The School's curriculum, plan and schemes of work take proper account of the needs of all pupils, including those with SEN and disabilities. The School regularly reviews pupil progress to help monitor whether children are making expected progress. Slow progress and low attainment do not necessarily mean that a child has SEN (and should not automatically lead to a pupil being recorded as having SEN).

However, where the School reasonably considers that a pupil may have a learning difficulty, for example where there are early indications that a pupil is not making expected progress, the School will do all that is reasonable to report and consult with parents/guardians and the pupil (as appropriate) to help determine the action required including whether any additional support is needed, such as in-class support.

The School may request parents/guardians to obtain a formal assessment of their child (such as by an educational psychologist or specialist teacher), the cost of which will usually be borne by the parents/guardians. Where parents/guardians wish to request a formal assessment from outside of school, they should ensure the School is given copies of all advice and reports received.

If there are significant emerging concerns, or identified SEN or disability, the School will take action to put appropriate special educational provision in place taking into account any advice from specialists. Parents/guardians should be consulted and kept informed of any action taken to help their child, and of the outcome of this action. Parents/guardians will be informed initially by email or a telephone call and meetings arranged as necessary. Due weight will also be given to a pupil's wishes (according to their age, maturity and capability).

Arrangements for special educational provision and support are made through the School's graduated approach to SEN support: assess - plan - do - review:

- Assess: The School will carry out an analysis of the child's needs so that support can be matched to need e.g. including screening, individual assessments, internal assessments, outcome of examinations, progress reports. If not already done so the School may, in consultation with parents/guardians, engage external agencies and professionals to help assess the child's needs and advise on any support needed. Any specialist advice received will usually be discussed with the child's parents/guardians.
- Plan: Where it is decided to provide SEN support, the Head of Learning Skills or SENCO will agree in consultation with parents/guardians and the pupil the adjustments, interventions, support and any teaching strategies or approaches that are to be put in place. These will be recorded on and distributed via the School's support register, pupil profiles or provision maps where appropriate.
- Do: Teachers will work closely with the Head of Learning Skills or SENCO to assess and monitor the targeted plan of support and the impact of support and interventions in place for the child.
- Review: The effectiveness of any support and its impact on the child's progress will be reviewed twice yearly OR as agreed between the School and parents/guardians. Teachers, working with the Head of Learning Skills or SENCO will revise the impact and quality of the support and interventions in light of the pupil's progress and development and will decide on any changes to the support in consultation with parents/guardians and the pupil (as appropriate).

The School recognises that some pupils with a SEN may also have a disability. The School will do all that is reasonable in order to meet the needs of pupils with disabilities for which, with reasonable adjustments, the School is able to cater for.

6. Reasonable adjustments

The School is committed to treating all pupils fairly. In light of the School's obligations under the Equality Act 2010, the School will seek to ensure that disabled pupils are not put at a substantial disadvantage, by comparison with pupils who are not disabled, by making reasonable adjustments:

1. to policies, criteria and practices (i.e. the way the School does things); and
2. by providing auxiliary aids and services (i.e. provision of additional support or assistance).

There is no standard definition of an auxiliary aid or service. Anything which helps, aids or renders assistance for disabled pupils or applicants is likely to be an auxiliary aid or service. Examples could include:

- use of equipment such as a laptop, remote microphone system, digital reader e.g. Livescribe pen; text-to-speech software
- support lessons
- mentors
- provision of a safe place for taking rest breaks
- access arrangements in the classroom, tests and examinations.

The School is not required to remove or alter physical features to comply with the duty to make reasonable adjustments for disabled pupils or applicants. Similarly, the School is not required to provide auxiliary aids for personal purposes unconnected with its provision of education and services.

School staff seek to understand the needs of each and every pupil and to ensure that all pupils have the chance to make good progress according to their ability. In practice, making reasonable adjustments can be a daily, iterative process. Adjustments can often be made by staff at short notice or no notice, for example, taking steps to ensure that a child has understood instructions, or that they are seated where they are able to hear and concentrate.

Once any required adjustments have been identified, the School will consider whether they are reasonable adjustments for the School to make by reference to the following factors:

- whether it would overcome the substantial disadvantage the disabled child is suffering
- the practicability of the adjustment
- the effect of the disability on the pupil
- the cost of the proposed adjustment
- the School's resources
- health and safety requirements
- the need to maintain academic, musical, sporting and other standards; and
- the interests of other pupils (and potential pupils).

The School will discuss the proposed adjustments with parents/guardians and, where appropriate, the pupil, Head of Learning Skills or SENCO, and (with the parents'/guardians' consent) any appropriate third party, which may include, for example, a medical practitioner or educational psychologist. The School will communicate any decision regarding reasonable adjustments with parents/guardians and the child (where appropriate).

Parents/guardians can assist the School in this process by ensuring that staff are informed of their child's needs, making available any relevant reports, assessments and information and working with the School if appropriate to implement any measures or reinforce any strategies put in place.

Where, despite reasonable adjustments to assist a child's access to educational provision and the other benefits, facilities and services the School provides, a disabled pupil is evidently still at a substantial disadvantage, the School may draw this to the attention of the parents/guardians and make recommendations. This might include, for example, seeking further external professional advice, seeking a statutory assessment, additional support funded by the parents/guardians or other external sources.

If the parents/guardians feel that there are further particular adjustments the School could make, parents/guardians may write to or speak with their child's class or form teacher or House Tutor, in the first instance, the Head of Learning Skills or SENCO. Parents/guardians are encouraged to provide copies of any medical or specialist's reports as evidence of the adjustments required.

7. Recording progress of pupils with SEND

The School will record the progress of, and any support for, pupils with significant learning difficulties or disabilities or where they have an Education Health Care Plan. This will be recorded on the support register and by way of a pupil profile or provision map. This is drawn up in consultation with the pupil's teacher, the Head of Learning Skills or SENCO, the pupil and their parents/guardians. The pupil profile or provision map contains key information such as:

- teaching strategies
- the additional or different provision of support in place
- involvement of any specialists or professionals
- information the pupil would like to share about themselves, e.g. strengths, weaknesses, diagnosed learning difficulties, disabilities or medical conditions and what these mean to the pupil and how these affect them
- date the pupil profile or provision map was drawn up.

Pupil profiles and provision maps are reviewed annually or as and when circumstances change and at the request of the pupil, parent/guardian, teacher, or Head of Learning Skills or SENCO.

The pupil (subject to their age and understanding), together with their parents/guardians and teachers, review the plan regularly and the child is encouraged to take ownership of it and to set their own targets.

The School will measure the overall progress of pupils with SEND at the end of the various key stages such as GCSE and A level to see how much progress they make compared with that of their peers and review the provision accordingly.

8. Early Years provision

The School monitors progress of all pupils in the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS). The designated teacher responsible for coordinating SEN provision in the EYFS provision is Briony Cartwright for King's St Albans and Katie Poole and Vicki English for King's Hawford. The SENCO and/or child's form teacher will discuss with parents/guardians any concerns they may have about a pupil's needs and/or progress, in accordance with this policy.

9. The School's SEN provision

The School's SEN provision currently includes: adaptive teaching, learning support, lessons by specialist teachers and assessments for a range of learning difficulties and for access arrangements.

10. Pupils with an Education Health Care plan (EHC Plan)

The needs of the majority of pupils with SEN will be met effectively through the School's SEN support. However, where the child or young person has not made expected progress despite the SEN support in place, parents/guardians and the School have the right to ask the Local Authority to make an assessment with a view to drawing up an EHC Plan for their child. Parents/guardians are asked to consult with the School before exercising this right. The School will always consult with parents/guardians before exercising this right.

If the Local Authority refuses to make an assessment, parents/guardians have a right of appeal to the First-tier Tribunal (Special Educational Needs and Disability). The School does not have this right of appeal.

Where a prospective pupil has an EHC Plan, the School will consult with the parents/guardians and the Local Authority (where appropriate) to ensure that the provision specified in the EHC Plan can be delivered by the School. Any additional services that are needed to meet the requirements of the EHC Plan will need to be charged to the Local Authority if the Local Authority is responsible for the fees and the School is named in the EHC Plan. In all other circumstances charges may be made directly to parents/guardians, unless the additional services can be considered to be a 'reasonable adjustment' where no charge will be made, in accordance with the provisions of the Equality Act (2010).

The School co-operates with the Local Authority to ensure that relevant annual reviews of EHC plans are carried out as required.

11. Further aspects relating to SEND provision

Admissions

The School does not unlawfully discriminate in any way regarding entry. The School welcomes pupils with disabilities and/or special educational needs, provided we can offer them any support that they require and cater for any additional needs and that our site can accommodate them. We aim to ensure that all our pupils, including those with disabilities and/or special educational needs, are provided with a safe and inclusive environment in which to learn.

Where a prospective pupil is disabled, the School will discuss with parents/guardians (and their child's medical advisers, if appropriate) the adjustments that can reasonably be made for the child if they become a pupil at the School, to ensure that the prospective pupil is not put at a substantial disadvantage compared to a pupil who is not disadvantaged because of a disability.

There may be exceptional circumstances in which we are not able to offer a place for reasons relating to a child's disability. For example, if, despite reasonable adjustments, we feel that a prospective pupil is not going to be able to access the education offered, or that their health and safety or those of other pupils or staff may be put at risk, we may not be able to offer a place at the School.

The School's Admissions Policy can be found on the School's website. It applies equally to all prospective pupils and details how the School supports those applicants with SEN and/or a disability.

Withdrawal

We reserve the right, following consultation with parents/guardians, to request or require the withdraw of a pupil from the School if, in our opinion after making all reasonable adjustments the School is unable to meet the child's needs. In these circumstances the School will support the parent's/guardian's in finding an alternative placement which will meet the child's needs. Any decision to request withdrawal or require the removal of a pupil will be made as a last resort and in line with the terms of the parent contract.

Fees in lieu of notice will not be chargeable in these circumstances.

12. Entitlements to additional time and/or support in external assessments

Children who have been diagnosed as having a learning difficulty may be entitled to support, such as additional time and/or modified provision, to complete external assessments. Exam access arrangements allow examination candidates with special educational needs and disabilities to access the assessment without changing the demands of the assessment. These are strictly regulated by the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ) on behalf of the examination boards, under the remit of Ofqual, and are administered and applied by the School in accordance with the published guidance and requirements.

Parents/guardians should speak with the Head of Learning Skills or SENCO with regard to any application for additional support as soon as reasonably practicable. The Head of Learning Skills or SENCO will process applications for appropriate examination access in conjunction with the child's teachers and the Examinations Officer. External reports may provide useful supporting evidence but the final decision lies with the School and testing must be done by the School's approved assessor. Access arrangements must reflect the child's normal way of working and be supported by evidence from teachers before an application to JCQ is made.

13. Bullying and behavioural issues

All pupils are taught that any form of discrimination, bullying and harassment is prohibited and will not be tolerated. Pupils are taught through the delivery of the curriculum, PSHE and assemblies the importance of respecting each other and behaving towards each other with kindness, courtesy and consideration. The School's behaviour and anti-bullying policies make clear the seriousness of bullying, victimisation and harassment and that appropriate sanctions will be applied to any pupil who displays inappropriate behaviour.

The School recognises that disabled pupils or those with SEN may be particularly vulnerable to being bullied. The School's Anti-bullying Policy makes it clear that bullying behaviour of any kind is not acceptable and will be taken very seriously.

The School also recognises that bullying (or other matters such as bereavement) can lead to learning difficulties or wider mental health difficulties. Persistent disruptive or withdrawn behaviours do not necessarily mean that a child or young person has SEN but where there are concerns, an assessment may be undertaken to determine whether there are any causal factors such as undiagnosed learning difficulties, difficulties with communication or mental health issues.

The School recognises that children with SEN and disabilities can face additional safeguarding challenges and additional barriers can therefore exist when recognising abuse and neglect in this group of children. These can include:

- assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child's disability without further exploration
- the potential for children with SEN and disabilities being disproportionately impacted by behaviours such as bullying, without outwardly showing any signs; and
- communication barriers and difficulties in overcoming these barriers.

Staff will support such pupils in expressing any concerns they may have and will be particularly vigilant to any signs or indicators of abuse, discussing this with the DSL as appropriate. The School's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy will be followed if there are any safeguarding concerns relating to a child.

14. Three-year accessibility plan

In line with its duty under the Equality Act 2010 the School's three-year Accessibility Plan sets out how the School will:

- increase the extent to which disabled pupils can participate in the School's curriculum
- improve the physical environment of the School for the purpose of increasing the extent to which disabled pupils are able to take advantage of education and benefits, facilities or services provided or offered by the School; and
- improve the delivery to disabled pupils of information which is readily accessible to pupils who are not disabled.

A copy of the School's Accessibility Plan is available on the School's website.

15. Parental responsibility

To ensure that parents/guardians and pupils can be given the most appropriate advice and support, it is important that all relevant information and documentation about any possible special educational need and any history of learning support is shared with the School. Parents/guardians must provide the Head of Learning Skills or SENCO with copies of any reports or recommendations concerning the pupil's special educational needs or disability from previous schools or elsewhere. Parents/guardians agree to do this when completing the registration form and accepting the terms and conditions of the parent contract.

16. Concerns

The School will listen to any concerns expressed by parents/guardians about their child's development and any concerns raised by children themselves. In the first instance, parents/guardians must notify their child's class or form teacher or House Tutor if their child's progress or behaviour gives cause for concern.

We hope that any difficulty or concern can be sensitively and efficiently handled and resolved informally before it reaches the formal complaints stage. That said, the School's Complaints Policy (which applies equally in the EYFS setting) is on the website and sets out how parents/guardians can raise a formal complaint and how the School will handle it. We will also send parents/guardians a copy of the Complaints Policy on request

17. Review

This policy will be reviewed by the Deputy Head Academic, Head of King's St. Alban's and Head of King's Hawford annually to ensure the School meets the needs of those pupils with SEN and/or disabilities, or at more frequent intervals if there are relevant legislative changes, and/or the evaluation of the policy highlights the need for a review.
